colour scheme

start menu

i would LOVE to have some sort of moving / animated element on the start page. gotta impress them right away ..., and it is currently missing tetris cat ... hmmm

i think itd be nice to have a transition pooming into the screen When user hits start -- like theyre entering the game! And it frees up the window area for other elements, etc.

Lemme cook 👨‍🍳

Pretty easy to add to all screens basically, makes it look wayyy better

zooms in!! woosh

Login button where start it? Changes to start after ur logged in and then a signout button in like the top right or smth?

hit start: login prompt? or straight to game select?

Signup should be more or less the same is login mandatory or can you play as a guest ?

hmmm
also i stole this from shakil
i have no shame
#teamwork

Play as guest could work but it might mess with authentication and stuff. Up to the auth/profile team optional tetris cat (not optional)

help menu (popup over start page)

We can have a button that says help or we can make this show up every time you login (or both)

tetris cat (NOT OPTIONAL)

we force someone to animate the tail swishing. thoughts?

Possible if we have extra time at the end. Added to supplementary features chess

this is too busy. changes needed (probably in background)

not sure if we'd prefer classic chess colors (BORING!!)

point advantage should be added and timers for both players should maybe have a back button and when you press that it gives you options to: resign, request a draw, or cancel

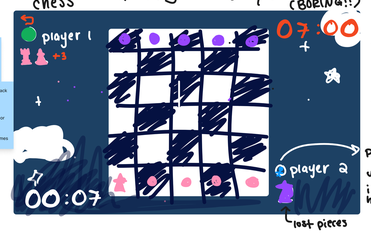
can be added for all games

Resign
Offer draw
Cancel



if we cant pull off the themed-after-retro-games idea, i also wouldnt mind if each game was primarily themed with one of our fundamental color scheme colors.

profile photos, usernames
i dont know how chess works

lost pieces

some sort of subtle pixelly environment in background for visual interest stars for consistency with start page. i really liked emily's game cartridge idea for the game select, and itll also work well if we end up theming each of the games after their own retro video game !!

for header font: that pixelly font we've been using?

*lets you type a text and save it as an image

chess board pattern

checkers

checkers is usually red and black. we can honor this with pink and dark blue, but then maybe don't use pink for chess. no overlap!!!!

if we implement skins, i think we only need colors for checkers also king/queen piece needs to work

(idk how checkers works)

time elapsed? if we have that idk if either game needs a timer

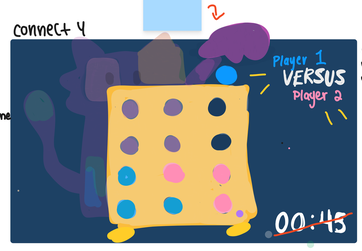
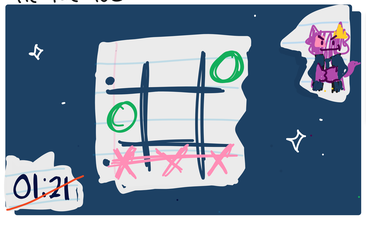
connect 4



why's the cat playing connect 4?? who did that???? ö

i think tetris cat should only put it in when the opponent does it, not you. would be sick

tic-tac-toe



for this one specifically, i think itd be really cute to use scratchy pencil-y handwritten fonts and elements to go with the ripped paper theme!! 👍

this one is very messy, but its 100% stolen from amr's design so we already have a nice polished version.. i just wanted to see what it'd look like in this color palette !!

and i ran out of room.. :(

maybe we should make it so you can scroll to see past 5. like 1,2,3 are the podium and 4 and 5 are still on the screen but below and then you need to scroll to see 5-10 or wherever it ends also maybe gold silver and bronze colors for podium?

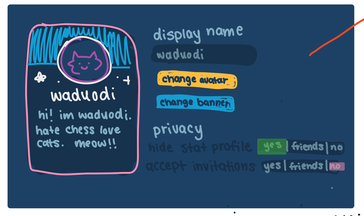
list continues

edit profile?



change password maybe?

i like the idea of profile cards with customizable banners, not toooo sure where we would use them though. also, we could have custom banners (arsenal style) as an incentive for levelling up, playing a certain amount of games, etc? like missions! also this is messy sorry also: i dont like the empty space on the right. need to revisit that this can also tie into the store/lootboxes idea that we have as extras stuff if we have time (we probably dont). if we dont we can always just have it as something that is there but doesnt really work rn and it can be a "in the future updates" type thing edit profile: is it different from the start page settings?

leaving the ... in the header for any other sections we might wanna add (unsure) . stole this from val tracker notes: im not sure how much of this data we'll actually have -- depends on what the other teams want to implement, so it'll be subject to change. also, i dont know if we will have a ranked system, and if so, it'd be difficult to have an overall ranking (seems much more feasible to have a separate ranking for each game) but anyway if not rank, we couldd have levels? where playing games nets u experience to level up. but again, that might be a hassle to implement rank system can be associated with website? maybe can also be tied into loot boxes and what not user profiles (match history)

should only show up if its your profile.

ability to sort by game?

scroll wheel

i like the moves played as a silly little additional piece of info.. but time elapsed could also work. subject to change !

can continue scrolling

more data can be added later on if the LB team decides to add more criteria

last maybe like 5-10 games instead of infinite
